June 2026 Newsletter

Dear friends of O.H.H.,

Fifteen of us recently returned from our Guatemala Medical Mission trip witl Fort Bend Community Church, where we had the privilege of serving once ag at Educando, one of the schools supported by O.H.H.

While the mission itself was meaningful, what impacted us most was witnessing how God transforms lives in ways we could never imagine.

Three years ago, we visited the Hernandez family, who lived in a small meta shack. Mrs. Hernandez was a single mother raising three children with no financial support or job skills. Through Educando, her children attended school free of charge. When her daughter, Melana, developed seizures, Educando and our medical team helped provide the treatment she needed, allowing her to return to school and thrive.

Before leaving, I asked Mrs. Hernandez how I could pray for her. She simply said, "I know God is good, and He will provide for us." I was deeply moved by her faith, though I wondered how her family's story would unfold

This year, we returned to visit them and were astonished to find that the old shack was gone. After completing training through Educando's Women's Center, Mrs. Hernandez received a micro-business loan to start a tortilla business. Her business flourished, enabling her to purchase a small concrete home for her family. Standing there, I remembered her words: "I know God is good, and He will provide for us."

Similarly, we have witnessed transformations elsewhere. In our last newsletter, we shared the story of Azi from Thailand's Golden City Children's Center. Once withdrawn and anxious, she is now confident, eag to serve others, and hopes to become a minister like her adoptive father.

Stories like these have helped our board recognize that God is calling O.H.H to care for the whole person—not only educational and medical needs, but also the physical, emotional, and spiritual well-being of the children and families we serve.

With this renewed understanding, we are excited to share O.H.H.'s updated vision and mission.
